On which point...

A daughter's words. A father's fear. A revelation that could unravel everything.

Seventeen-year-old Alexa—brilliant, sharp-witted, and living with severe cerebral palsy—has just been given a voice through revolutionary technology. What she says could change everything we think we know about consciousness, belief, and the unknown. Her father, Norman, a widowed consultant entangled in a shadowy defense project in Arizona, isn't ready to hear it.

As father and daughter navigate grief, truth, and the vast terrain between science and the metaphysical, their story unfolds into a genre-bending, mind-expanding journey that probes the very fabric of reality.

For readers who crave thrilling, thoughtful fiction with philosophical depth, emotional resonance, and a touch of the cosmic—The Otero County Disclosure is a bold, timely novel about hope, humanity, and the power of unspoken truths.

The book's being promoted across the US, Canada and other territories, including the UK, on BookBub and other sites, including NewInBooks, and will be reviewed in various US' publications.

Thank you

Now's an opportune time for me to say something to you, dear reader.

I wouldn't be here, writing this now, if it wasn't for you. I would like to say a huge 'thank you' for your support. It means the world to me, a new author, trying to find his way (and an audience). I cannot thank you enough. I hope you realize how important you are in the writing journey of one, Huey Hawke.

If you are kind enough to buy a copy of the novel, the only thing I wish for is for you to leave a review, on Amazon, or wherever the place of purchase. Whether you loved the book or not. A few words, a sentence, is all it needs.

Finally, if you read the book and feel able, do drop me a line and let me know what you thought. Again, good or bad. Tell me about your favourite bits, or the sections you didn't enjoy. I'm starting on the journey for planning and writing books two and three. If you want, I'd love for you to join me on the journey, and become a beta reader; to read drafts and offer feedback. I think we'll have a lot of fun!

Email me at huey@hueyhawke.com.

Thank you once more, and I'll speak to you again in August.
